

National Young Filmmakers' Competition - Against Knife Crime

Young people across the UK, aged 11-21, are being given the opportunity to have their say in the fight against knife crime in a filmmaking competition run in association with the Daily Mirror's Stop Knives, Save Lives campaign.

The 90 second films will be judged at regional level by a high profile panel including king of the I'm a Celebrity jungle Joe Swash and Hollywood star Ray Winstone.

Awards include Flip Ultra digital camcorders; a tour of Pinewood Studios; working in the production team on the set of the UK's first 3D movie, Street Dance (Vertigo Films); and much more!

To submit videos and find out more, visit
<http://film.stopknivessavelives.co.uk/about/>

Deadline for entries is Friday, 17 July, with winners announced on 10 September 2009.

<http://www.visionandmedia.co.uk/page/ational-young-filmmakers-competition>